

The Agricultural Science Center at Farmington invites you to our 2021 Annual Field Day and Open House !

FARMINGTON ANNUAL FIELD DAY: AUGUST 30TH @ 9:00 A.M. - 2:00 P.M.

Under New Mexico State University COVID-19 regulations, we will be having an on-site Annual Field Day in 2021.

Masks are required for those who have not received a COVID-19 vaccine and for all persons indoors.

Under Navajo Nation protocols, this is a self-guided, drive-through event.

FIELD DAY EVENTS

- Vineyard and Cherry/Apple Trials/Goji Berry /Jujube trials
- Weather Station and monitoring overview
- Drip irrigation and soil moisture probe demonstrations
- Northern Arizona University - Native plant/pollinator study Seed production trial under differing irrigation and fertilization strategies
- Agroforestry, carbon sequestration and other assorted mixed woody perennial shrubs and tree topics
- Chipper and Table Potato and Corn trials under Center pivot irrigation
- New hops plantings and small-scale hops harvester demonstration
- Alfalfa Trials: Variety and rotational studies for nutrient management
- Blue corn trials
- Beans and guar
- Xeriscape Demonstration Garden self-guided walking tour
- New Greenhouse and Sustainable Potato to Prevent Diabetes (SPUD) overview
- Soil testing, informational booths and more

Location: 300 Rd. 4063, Farmington N.M. 87401. Take NM 371 South. Follow signs to NAPI Flour Mill.

BE BOLD. Shape the Future.
College of Agricultural, Consumer and Environmental Sciences
Agricultural Experiment Station
Agricultural Science Center at Farmington